ATTORNEY GENERAL
RULES CONNECTION
FUNDS FAILED BANK

STATE GUARANTY FUND HAS PREFERENTIAL CLAIM ON CERTAIN DEPOSITS

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 18.—The Austin fund, upon liquidation of a failed bank, has a preferential claim of 75 per cent of the bank's contributions held by the bank as a demand deposit, Attorney General Dan Moody ruled in an opinion to-day to Charles O. Austin, State Banking Commissioner.

The banking board is entitled to offset a failing bank's proportional interest in the guaranty fund against the amount of contributions by the fund, the bank's interest existing only as to the excess, if any, the ruling held.

The item denominated "interest in the depositor's guaranty fund" is an asset of the guaranty fund banks to the extent of its true value which because of depletion of the guaranty fund is a more potential value subject to be written off at any time, according to the rule.

GOVERNOR DEFENDS SLAYING
DALLAS ATTORNEY GRANTING FULL PARDON TO CRAWFORD

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 18.—Sheriff-elect Allen Seale, named in Governor Ferguson's proclamation pardoning W. L. Crawford, denied to-day that he had placed his name on the petition circulated here asking executive clemency.

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 18.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today granted a full pardon to William Lester Crawford of Dallas, who was under sentence of five years from Dallas county for manslaughter in connection with the killing of Paul O'Day.

Crawford and O'Day were prominent young attorneys, and the killing and trial attracted wide notice. Recently the Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed Crawford's sentence and yesterday his attorney, Bob Allen, told the Court his client had withdrawn his motion for re-hearing.

O'Day was killed in September, 1924, the slaying resulting from a brief drawn by O'Day, who was representing parties seeking to break the will of Crawford's father.

The Governor, in giving reason for granting the pardon said that O'Day used the testimony of an irresponsible negro as a basis upon which he made the charge in a printed brief which he, the deceased, knew would be published in the public records of the courts as well as in the newspapers, that the mother of the defendant, Lester Crawford, was lacking in virtue before her marriage to the defendant's father, and the charge in said brief went farther and in effect stated that defendant's mother had lived in adultery for a period of time, before her marriage to the defendant's father.

Means Kill or Be Killed.
"When men make charges of this kind, here in the South, they mean that they are ready to kill or to be killed, and no one is surprised when that result follows.

CENTRAL TEXAS CONFERENCE GETS UNDER HEADWAY

growth of the Epworth League; brief talk from President C. C. Seileman of Southern Methodist University of Dallas; introduction of visitors from other conferences, and much other business.

Rev. Squires Preaching.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, a sermon was preached by Rev. Lynn Squires, Methodist evangelist, which greatly affected the ministers, laymen and others who heard it. Last night the Choral club of Southwest University, Georgetown, a Methodist educational institution, gave a brief concert, after which pageant, "The Fruits of His Labors," was presented by a cast from the church. This depicted the superannuated preachers of the Methodist church, those worn out in the service, and there was a large attendance.

Appointees Expected Sunday.

The conference will be busy until Sunday, and it is expected the appointments of preachers to their various charges will be read out Sunday night, though the bishop has not indicated this in any official utterance.

Beginning promptly at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, at Austin Avenue Methodist church, the seventeenth annual session of the Central Texas (Methodist) conference started a session of several days, with Bishop John Moore of Dallas presiding and with a very large attendance. All matters of the church will be considered, including evangelism, Christian education, hospitals, missions, Epworth League, Sunday schools, appointment of pastors for the various charges in the conference, etc.

Bishop Moore Talks.

Bishop John M. Moore, after a short song service and prayer, spoke of the meaning and mission of the Methodist church in the world and of the aim of all religious effort. He stressed the need for greater earnestness and effectiveness in pressing the work. He read from the first chapter of Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians, and of Paul's full understanding of the source of all power and ministry, commenting on the high purposes and wide outreach of Christianity with its manifold possibilities and responsibilities. He declared that each human life represents a plan of God, each church represents a wider plan, and Methodism has committed to it a specific work which it cannot escape and which no other force can do. He mentioned other churches which have a similar commission, each doing the work committed to it. Bishop Moore urged that the Methodist church has a mission especially just now in looking after the religious life and activities of the people of the country districts, saying that too many preachers want to get into the cities and towns. A special responsibility lies on the church and to do the right thing for the people of other nationalities, he said.

Host Pastor Welcomes.

Rev. Collum H. Booth welcomed the delegates as pastor of the host church, declaring that hospitality was not dead, as evidenced by co-operation given in entertainment work. He introduced W. F. Barnett, superintendent of the Methodist Orphans' Home here, declaring that the printing office at the home had published free the programs at the convention.

Superintendent Barnett spoke words of welcome, paying tribute to the Methodist preachers present. He invited the conference Thursday afternoon for an open house, showing the home to all, with a brief program ready also. The conference will pause this afternoon for this event.

Visitors from other conferences were introduced.

Four Have Died in Year.

The names of four preachers of the conference who had died during the year were presented as follows: Revs. W. V. Jones, E. A. Shurtliff, R. F. Brown and W. C. Hillburn. The audience and preachers stood for a minute in silence as tribute to the dead, while Bishop John M. Moore then offered a word of prayer for those who were left sorrowing and of praise for the lives of those who had fallen while in service.

The bounds of Central Texas conference include counties as far north as Tarrant and Fort Worth, south to Williamson county and Georgetown, west to Eastland and Cisco and Brownwood east to Navarro and Corsicana and Mexia.

Many laymen were present, and many women are present as delegates, and representing various church organizations.

Dinner and supper are being served at the church by ladies of the Methodist churches of the city as entertainment cells for room and breakfast for visitors. A reasonable charge is made at the church for the meals served.

The attendance yesterday filled the whole first floor of the church, there being probably a thousand persons present.

Austin Avenue Methodist church is proving a wonderful place for the conference, with its large auditorium and abundance of committee rooms.

Central Texas Conference is one of the five Methodist conferences in Texas.

Dr. Attilio Webb, long prominent in Anti-Saloon League circles and the fight for temperance, is attending the conference.

Hydraulic Hoists

Sinclair Alwether Oil

Have you ever seen a coal truck on a winter's day parked at its destination, with a fire built underneath or just back of the driver's cab? An incongruous circumstance, you might think, and dangerous. You wonder why this was being done—simply this: The driver arrived at his destination but could not unload, because his hydraulic dumping equipment was "frozen."

The remedy is so simple, too. Just Sinclair Alwether Oil. Consider the benefits of ready operation in any weather—saving in labor hours, saving in time required to complete delivery, lessening of fire hazard, and satisfaction. Sinclair Alwether Oil will permit this operation many degrees below zero.

Besides the hydraulic dump truck, there are numerous other applications of the hydraulic principle in industrial plants. Small hoists in outside yards for the handling of metal and heavy parts are common. An excellent place for Alwether Oil to render service.

One manufacturer of this type of equipment makes expression as follows:

NATURE STUDY CLUB HAS WINDOW DISPLAY AT PENLAND DRUG

play sand in this well others are not so optimistic, one man said Wednesday.

Cosden and Nash Oil Company was reported to have continued drilling on the Finch well No. 1 six miles west of Wortham Wednesday, which was temporarily abandoned recently. The depth reached when abandoned was 3,016 feet.

The Nature Study Club has a most interesting display that is of great educational value to those interested in nature study and all forms of bird, animal and insect life in Texas, as well as of trees and plants. The display is to be seen in the show window of the Penland Drug Company, and has attracted much attention.

The display consists of butterflies, moths and other insects, stuffed birds, birds' nests, leaves and many other items that come under the head of nature study. There is also a placard with several questions pertaining to nature, lots of Texas that sets one thinking and gives him an idea of the great extent of Texas and what Nature has done for this part of the world.

This is the fourth annual display of the Nature Study Club, which is made each year during National Educational Week, and is made as a part of this club's contribution to the observance of the week as tending to make education on the things of Nature more forcible and interesting.

KEEN INTEREST IS MANIFESTED IN OIL OPERATIONS HERE

MANY SHRINERS EXPECTED ATTEND TWO CEREMONIALS

Keen interest was observed in the oil area near Corsicana Wednesday with the setting of casing in one well, coring on another and drilling on several others.

The Sun Company spudded in on the Ernest Swink No. 2-B Tuesday in the Richland field and was setting surface casing Wednesday. It was learned from reliable sources. "This well is in a forty-eight acre tract and is 300 feet west of the Swink No. 1.

Lime was said to have been cored on the Cayton well No. 1, south of Corsicana towards Mexia at 2,897 feet Tuesday night. While a few seem to think there is a fair chance of striking the

A large delegation from the Hella County Shrine Club is expecting to attend both the Hella and Karen Shrine ceremonials, according to announcement by Jake Hudson, president of the local organization.

The Hella Ceremonial will be held at Dallas Saturday and the Karen Ceremonial will be held at Waco next week. Mr. Hudson stated that there would be a special interurban car leaving Dallas Saturday night following the completion of the ceremonial. This was arranged for those visiting to return to Corsicana Saturday night. The time the car will leave Dallas will be announced from the stage at the Fair Park auditorium.

CHARGE CONSPIRACY TO DEFEATED PRO LAW IN CITY OF CHICAGO

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The Federal government's inquiry into dry law violation in Chicago reached today and still in the chalk. This well is in an unexplored territory and much interest is being centered around it. Some oil men have said this well has one of the best chances of any well in operation to be a producer as it struck the chalk at such a shallow depth of 1,915 feet. "A good producer out of that well certainly wouldiven oil interest up in this section of the country," one man stated.

There is a rumor in the local oil realm that H. C. Whitworth et al., are going to complete the Mitchell No. 1 and drill it to the sand. The well was abandoned some time ago by Osborne et al., at an undetermined depth. It is located two and a half miles west of Tupelo. G. C. Kent's Hardy No. 8, was stated to be drilling in shale at 500 feet Wednesday afternoon. Charlie Kessinger is drilling contractor for this well.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE CAMP FIRE GIRL IS TERSELY TOLD

To be a Camp Fire Girl is: To be one of a comrade ship of girls, living in every state of the United States, and in Alaska, Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, South America, England, Scotland, India, France, Turkey, Japan, China, and New Zealand;

Captain John Prendergast, secretary to Chief of Police Morgan Collins, and Municipal Judge Harry M. Walker were at the top of the list of 74 Chicagoans in the blanket indictment which was the latest thrust of the Federal grand jury.

Numerous court and police subordinates were also included in the bills which charged conspiracy to defeat prohibition enforcement from the actual selling of liquor.

The move was accompanied by a statement from U. S. District Attorney Olson referring to the "utility of dry enforcement effort because of crooks holding important posts in the Chicago police department," which drew an immediate response from Mayor Dever. The mayor demanded an immediate airing of the charges and characterized the grand jury action as an aftermath of break between the city and Federal authorities.

Judge Walker, who was not informed of specific violation charged to him, attributed the indictment to his liberation of "minor offenders" brought into his court. The indictment charged conspiracy on each of four counts—manufacture, sale and transportation of liquor, and operation of public nuisances.

The district attorney said that the government made the move in a campaign to "give terrorists and obstructionists special attention and find out whether the United States government is powerful enough to protect the regular processes of its courts."

arouses their finer sensibilities and contributes to the attractive personality. "Fine arts study reaches into the human soul and gives the finer nature expression," Dr. Burman said.

With this devotion to art he has built at Trinity University a conservatory of music masters trained under the artists of the old world and the new. These instructors not only come in contact with the students in their private studios but lead them in public performances, coaching them constantly in the expression of their talents.

They direct the band, orchestras, glee clubs, and choirs regularly, never allowing the students to depend upon amateur leadership. The organizations are maintained to individual practice.

Chatfield Girl
Member Glee Club
Trinity University

Special to The Sun.

Waxahachie, Texas, Nov. 18.—Clara Nell Meredith of Chatfield is a member of the Girl's Glee Club of Trinity University. This is an organization of students providing an opportunity of musical expression with practical as well as cultural benefits. It is one of several organizations for the musically interested students of the university.

Membership in one of these organizations means that the young people are benefiting from the most cultural influences outside the class rooms which can come to them in their student days. In the words of President John T. Burman, they are building two great values for themselves.

First, they are acquiring a facility in fine arts expression that will be of practical value to them in after life in adjusting themselves in capacities of leadership and influence in their communities.

Second, they are profiting from a cultural training that touches their very soul and cultivates a spirit of wholesomeness and appreciation, "pay sand."

Much activity was noticed in the local oil fields Thursday with drilling operations on two wells and rigging up on as many more.

Wood Stanley et al., on the Edens farm was said to have penetrated through the chalk at 2,335 feet Thursday morning. It was stated that Mr. Stanley was in very high spirits over getting through the chalk at such a shallow depth while other oil men failed to see such bright prospects.

The Carrita Oil and Gas Company stated that this company has taken over the Mitchell well No. 1, recently abandoned by J. O. Osborne at approximately 2,500 feet.

The Carrita Company will drill to what is known as the Woodbine sand or to a depth of 2,900 feet. The well is located two and a half miles southwest of Tupelo. This will be the fifth well drilled by the Carrita Oil and Gas Company since it was incorporated in June of 1925. It was stated Thursday morning.

Texas Company on the Cheney No. 1, was still in the chalk Wednesday night at 2,663, according to information received at the Texas Company office Thursday morning.

This well is located south of the Powell field in a 123 acre tract and is the sixth test to be made in this vicinity of which none struck the

GROESBECK SUING OIL COMPANY FOR ALLEGED POLLUTION

Special to The Sun.

Groesbeck, Texas, Nov. 18.—Damages of $85,000 and an injunction to prevent pollution of the Navasota river above the city water supply is asked by the City of Groesbeck in a damage suit brought against the Transcontinental Oil Company, a Delaware corporation, which is the principal producer in the new Nigger Creek oil field.

In the action filed by Attorney L. W. Sheppard in behalf of the city complainant, is made of alleged salt water and oil disposal into the Navasota river, claiming that the large volume of water impounded in the Navasota river above the city's dam is rendered unfit for use.

In the petition the value of the city's plant on the river is set at $250,000, with an estimate of $500,000 for the entire water equipment in addition to $75,000 worth of sewer lines, which the petitioner maintains, have been damaged by the salt water overflow into the Navasota river and into Nigge Creek and other tributaries of the river.

The city, at an expense of $15,000, added to its dam in the river last year and the winter rains of 1925-26 filled the reservoir with fresh surface water. This water, the city claims, has been rendered unfit for use by the action of the Transcontinental Oil Company in allowing salt water pollution of the stream.

Temple, Texas, Nov. 18.—C. L. Reynolds, 53, prominent Temple druggist for many years, was found shot to death with a revolver bullet through his temple at his home early today. He had been ill health for some months.

Mr. Reynolds came here from Bastrop. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

GRAVE FOR DOCTOR DUG BEFORE MURDER WITNESS TESTIFIES

By Associated Press.

George West, Texas, Nov. 18.—The shallow grave in which the body of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, aged 50, was found, was dug for him last May, almost two days before he was killed. Roberto Martinez, who is under indictment, testified today in the brush, he continued.

trial of Harry J. Leahy, charged with the murder of Ramsey.

Recess Stops Testimony.

Court recessed for noon before Martinez had reached the night of the murder and the portion of his testimony which is expected to be the most sensational.

He concluded his morning's testimony with a description of several rides which he said he took by Ramsey's house with Leahy on which the latter called the house to his attention, saying that a good doctor lived there.

Mrs. Ramsey testified that Martinez came to her home in Mathis at 6:50 p. m., May 20, and said to Dr. Ramsey, "I want you to go to my brother's casa; appendicitis." It was announced that the State would call 70 witnesses to the stand and the defense 27.

Leahy Pleads Not Guilty.

Martinez testimony came after Leahy had pleaded not guilty and Mrs. Ramsey had described the details of the last night of Ramsey's life.

"Gentlemen," Leahy said dramatically, when arraigned, "I do my every charge in that indictment, and plead not guilty."

Martinez is regarded as the star prosecution witness. He described himself as Leahy's chauffeur and is charged with having taken

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for November 21, 1926.

Read Joshua 24.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

THE VALUE OF COVENANTS.

(Joshua 24: 14-25.)

14. Now therefore fear the Lord and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood and in Egypt; and serve ye the Lord.

15. And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve: whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, whose land ye dwell; but at for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.

16. And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods:

17. or the Lord our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed:

18. And the Lord drove out before us all the people, even the Amorites which dwelt in the land; therefore will we also serve the Lord; for he is our God.

19. And Joshua said unto the people, Ye cannot serve the Lord; for he is an holy God; he is a jealous God; he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins.

20. If ye forsake the Lord, and serve strange gods, then he will turn and do you hurt, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

21. And the people said unto Joshua, Nay; but we will serve the Lord.

22. And Joshua said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves and ye have chosen you the Lord, to serve him. And they said, We the witnesses.

23. Now therefore put away, said he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your hearts unto the Lord God of Israel.

24. And the people said unto Joshua, The Lord our God will we serve, and his voice will we obey.

25. So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in it is seven times hotter than an ordinary fire and then tells me to do thus and so or he will throw me into that furnace, does not appeal to me.

My God is a loving God who gives me every chance in the world to be a good and useful man, who smiles when I approach excellence in any way and who sympathizes when I fall down and wants me to come back and try over.

My notion about God and life is that it is up to every one to do the very best possible with life, to make his own choice without the fear of punishment or the hope of reward.

This, it seems to me was in the mind of Joshua when he gathered the Israelites together at Shechem and made his farewell address.

The keynote of his speech was "Choose you this day whom ye will serve" and he added a very effective sentence "but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

Joshua had been the leader of the band of adventurers who were driving out other peoples and making homes for themselves and building cities and building a nation.

When Joshua died he was 110 years old and the work was not done. The conquest of Canaan covered a period of 200 years, and Joshua was at the beginning and was the leader for forty or fifty years. A better account of this period is found in the book of Judges.

Just before he died Joshua called a great assembly of his people at Shechem. All his Generals and Captains and his commanders of hundreds and tens were present. The Levites were there and had a special place close to the platform. They all knew that Joshua could not command very much longer and were prepared for his speech which was a farewell address. Moses had made a similar address. Great leaders since that time have delivered similar speeches and all are patterned in the same way. Joshua reviewed the campaigns which had been under his leadership, recounted the incidents of fifty years of war. He went back and reviewed the history of the people from Abraham and brought it down to date. Then he analyzed the situation in the light of history and drew conclusions for the future and in warning words told what would happen if the people departed from the worship of God. Joshua stressed the care of God over his people, the promises of God to them and finally in a climax demanded:

"Choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which are among you, and incline your hearts unto the Lord God of Israel, and serve him.

Golden Text—"Choose you this day whom ye will serve; . . . but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."—Joshua 24: 15.

A friend once told me that he was a Hell-Scared Christian. He was a good Christian at that and lived a decent life. He meant that a hell of fire and brimstone was always before his eyes and he did not want to go there.

I have often wondered how many church members are on the rolls just because they are afraid. It always seemed to me that this kind of a man was simply trying to take out a fire insurance policy.

At that I would rather be a hell-scared Christian than not to be a Christian at all. Yet this kind of Christianity does not appeal to me. I am like a great many others who refuse to be scared. The kind of a God who has set up a great furnace and turned on the gas until we are carried away. Then and the old year was done;

"Dear Father, hast thou a new leaf?" he said.

"I have spoiled this one."

In the place of the leaf so stained and blotted,

I gave him a new one, all unspotted,

And into his sad eyes smiled,

"Do better now, my child."

I went to the throne with a sin stained soul,

The old year was done;

"Dear Father, hast thou a new leaf for me?"

I have spoiled this one."

He took the old leaf, stained and blotted,

And gave me a new one, all unspotted,

And into my sad heart smiled.

"Do better now, my child."

Many years passed after the death of Joshua before the Israelites completely occupied the land which had been their objective. It was not until the time of David, the king, that the conquest was complete. In that time they had many ups and downs, they strayed from the true religion, they went away after false gods, and every time paid dearly. But they made the grade. They kept after a fashion, the pledge made at Shechem. When they finally failed the kingdom was destroyed.

The United States is a Christian nation. Its foundations are laid on a pledge to God. It is woven into our constitution and into our laws.

Choose this day whom you will serve. If you would serve Booze choose Booze. If you will serve God choose God. But as for me and my house we will obey the law.—The Republic Syndicate.

WIDE TERRITORY BLANKETED UNDER MANY INCHES SNOW

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Snow-laden clouds roamed the Central West today and moved eastward before gusty winds that brought record-breaking November snowfall out of the Northwest.

Corn belt temperatures went down to turn rain into snow, and blizzards became small blizzards before winds which approached gale velocities in some localities.

Warnings were displayed on all the Great Lakes except Ontario as the storm center swept today into Illinois from the Southwest, where it took snow and freezing temperatures. The mercury hung around 20 degrees in parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

The passing of the wave left St. Louis with more than five inches of snow. There were falls of as much as six inches in Illinois and weather bureaus throughout the region measured snow depths unprecedented for the month.

There were three deaths in Chicago indirectly attributed to the storm.

DALLAS LAWYER
WITHDRAWS MOTION FOR NEW HEARING

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Nov. 17.—William Lester Crawford, sentenced from Dallas county to five years for manslaughter in connection with the killing of Paul O'Day, withdrew his motion for rehearing in the Court of Criminal Appeals today.

The court some time ago affirmed the sentence and his motion for re-hearing was pending.

With the withdrawal of Crawford's motion, his sentence of five years becomes automatically effective.

At the time of the killing, Crawford and O'Day were prominent attorneys of Dallas. A suit over the will of Crawford's father was responsible for the difficulty.

The Willard
Battery men

Only last night did the authorities learn that he was living quietly, monarch in fact of his subjects. He had been in hiding there five years. Swooping down through the night upon the unsuspecting Israelites the troopers, crashed their way through doors and windows.

King Attended by Two Men.

Aided by flood lights the troopers surrounded the administration building. The "King," was found seated in a chair dressed only in his underwear. Beside him stood two men who claimed to be attendants or "slaves." In other rooms of the building were found three other men, two girls and a woman the King's constant attendant throughout his tempestuous career, Myrtle Tulk.

The girls were in their night garments. The Tulk woman was in deshabille.

The troopers gathered the flock together and rushed them to the Berrin county jail.

The raid was made as result of information given by Mrs. Bessie Woodworth and her husband, both former members of the cult and complainants against the rule which holds members under sovereign sway of the King, self-styled "Brother to the Savior."

Purnell Admits Identity.

Torn from his realm and faced by his accusers and acquaintances of former years, Purnell broke under the quizzing of police to admit his identity.

What will be done with the prisoners has not been decided. Facing Purnell are a series of charges, serious both to him and the colony.

Charles sworn to by Ruth B. Reed and Gladys B. Rubel, face him as well as several civil suits, one of which seeks dissolution of the colony.

Ready to appear against him is a array of witnesses brought together in previous investigations and grand jury proceedings which so far have resulted in but little.

Rewards for the capture of the "King" have been posted totalling approximately $4,000. Repeated attempts to disclose immorality in the colony have resulted in the starting of law suits that are still hanging fire.

Grand Jury Makes Probe.

Three years ago a grand jury investigation conducted by Judge Harry J. Dingeman of Detroit into the affairs of the cult brought forward Mrs. Woodworth as an accomplice. At that time she told of her forced marriage at the King's command and related that young girls were brought to perform strange religious practices at the bidding of their leader.

Those arrested with Purnell are Leonard Rowe, 33; Thomas Wilson, 36, farmer; Joseph Couch, 51, laborer; Millard Wilson, 27, street car motorman at the colony; Mrs. Annabelle Askrenlund, 28; Mrs. Helen Bloom, 21 and Myrtle Tulk.

"Shiloh" Abandoned.

"Shiloh" where Purnell had lived before his "escape" was abandoned, but it was not until today that the outside world realized the real purpose of the administration building close by.

Shielded by shrubbery and trees this building defied inspection of inquisitive eyes.

Among the features of government to which the state objects has been that of requiring the deeding of all properties to the order by those who adopt the faith.

In actions brought against the colony, by the state, it has been charged that it has fraudulently obtained control of property valued in excess of $50,000; that the colony has in effect set up its own government which it holds to be greater than the state; that members have been deluded in conveying property to Purnell by fantastic promises of immortality; and that immoral acts were induced and permitted, under the guise of religious discipline.

Woman Also Disappears.

The Tulk woman, apparently favorite of the King, disappeared from "Shiloh" at the same time as the leader after the Misses Rubel and Reed had started action for recovery of property which they claimed was due them.

Rumors that the fugitive King had never left but remained hidden resulted in a fruitless raid three years ago.

Asked this morning if he had remained here throughout all the investigation Purnell nodded affirmatively.

Tennessee Lady Had So Little Strength She "Couldn't Get Around." Took Cardui With Benefit.

Gassaway, Tenn.—"I wasn't able to do any of my work, and it seemed like I had so little strength I just couldn't get around," says Mrs. Frank Murphy, who lives near here.

"My mother knew of the good Cardui could do, so she told me to take it. I sent and got a bottle, and seemed like all the time I grew stronger."

"I had been suffering with pains in my sides all the time, and Cardui helped this wonderfully. I needed a tonic for female trouble, and Cardui just fitted the need. I was awfully restless and could not sleep at night, but after taking two bottles of Cardui I could sleep like a top. I got along all right, and I know it was due to Cardui. I can certainly recommend it to women suffering from women's troubles."

"My present health is just fine."

"Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui relieved them of pain and suffering, and helped them to improve in health and strength."

Cardui is perfectly harmless, being an extract of mild-acting herbs and contains no dangerous drugs or harmful ingredients.

TEXAS CONFERENCE
METHODIST CHURCH
OPENS AT ORANGE

By the Associated Press

Orange, Texas, Nov. 17.—The eighteenth session of the Texas annual conference of the S. M. E. church, South, met in the city of Orange Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock with Bishop Sam R. Hay of Houston in the chair. The old conference hymn "And I Were Yer Alive" was sung, after which Dr. Massey, a superannuate and former pastor of Orange, led in prayer.

Bishop Hay made some opening remarks, stating that he was glad to be back to his old conference; that they wanted no discussions of appointments and that the reports of the committees and the boards should be brief. He wished every pastor to make a report of his work in person.

D. E. Houchkiss, secretary of the last conference, called the conference in behalf of the churches and told and nearly all the pastors and answered to their names. Seven delegates of the Beaumont district answered present. Houchkiss was again elected secretary.

The States quoted an official of the L. & N. railroad as saying that matters had come to a standstill.

"The dock board on all the warehouses have notified the railroads that they have no space for cotton and that they simply would and could not take any more," the story said. "Not one bale can be stored at this time," it added.

All local interests have been co-operating for the past several weeks in efforts to alleviate the warehouse situation.

"PIG WOMAN" SAYS
RECTOR'S WIDOW AND BROTHERS AT SCENE

By Associated Press.

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, supported by a physician and nurse, raised herself on a hospital bed in court here today to point to Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, as three persons she saw near the spot where the bodies of Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were found.

The woman, farmer, introduced by the state as an eye-witness of the double killing, was brought to the court in an ambulance from a Jersey City hospital and began her testimony with a nurse sitting at the edge of her bed and a physician at the head.

She spoke in a low voice as she started to tell her story and the court stenographers repeated her answers to the jury, but as she proceeded, her voice grew stronger and when she finished direct examination, occupying 25 minutes, she could be clearly heard. Her story was substantially the same as that she has previously told except that she said she saw Henry Stevens at the spot, after she had previously seen Mrs. Hall and Willie Stevens in a Sedan parked in De Russo's lane. Senator Case for the defense began cross-examination immediately.

Says She Told Truth.

"I told the truth, so help me God and you know it," Jane Gibson screamed as she was being placed on a stretcher to be taken from the court room after testifying in the Hall-Mills case today.

"Do you see the lady in the room?" asked Simpson, referring to the woman whom Mrs. Gibson had said she saw at the scene of the crime.

"That is the lady," said the witness, pointing straight at Mrs. Hall, who remained unmoved.

"Do you see Willie Stevens?" asked Simpson.

"Yes," said Mrs. Gibson, pointing at Willie Stevens as she had at Mrs. Hall.

"Do you see Henry Stevens?"

"Yes," replied the witness, and pointed at Henry Stevens.

GARROTED THURSDAY ON MURDER CHARGE

By Associated Press.

Santiago, Cuba, Nov. 18.—Jose Quesada Castillo, negro murderer, was garroted in the prison here today. He was condemned for the murder of his daughter, whom he killed after escaping from prison where he was serving a life sentence for the murder of his wife.

A nurse accompanied the patient into the court room and stood by as she was transferred from the stretcher to a bed, resting directly in front of the jury.

The defendants, sitting a few feet away, were interested in every detail of the transfer.

The bed was wheeled around so that the patient would face the judge.

On it lay a woman who was apparently very ill.

She did not open her eyes and responded to some word from the nurse with a feeble nod.

The upper half of the bed was raised so that Mrs. Gibson would be almost in a sitting position. It was lowered almost immediately, as if to give her time to regain strength for the ordeal ahead.

Bible Carried to Cot.

A Bible was carried to her cot, the covers drawn back so that she might touch it.

"Do you solemnly swear," began the court attendant, and Mrs. Gibson replied: "I do" very feebly.

"Jane Gibson," the court crier announced, "Jane Easton" Simpson corrected.

"Where were you on the night of September 14, 1922?" Simpson asked.

"At home," she replied.

Mrs. Gibson told how she had been robbed of gold and when she heard her dog barking the night of September 14, 1922, she went outside her house. She then heard a wagon stop in the middle of her corn field, she said, and suspecting it as being the wagon of the thieves, she saddled her mule, Jenny, and went to follow the wagon, which, in the meantime, had driven away.

She described how she remained about fifty feet behind the wagon as she followed it in the direction of New Brunswick.

Mrs. Gibson in a tired voice told of having seen Mrs. Hall and Willie Stevens at the road near the scene of the killing. Her head began rocking back and forth on the pillow and attendants stood up and began taking her pulse.

"I saw a white woman and a colored man," she testified. "She didn't have a hat on."

Identifies Woman As Mrs. Hall.

"The woman was Mrs. Hall and I afterwards learned that the man was Willie Stevens."

"When you came down the lane, did you hear anything?" asked Simpson.

"I heard men's voices."

"Men's voices or women's voices?"

"I heard men's voices and women's voices. They seemed to be coming nearer all the time."

"When they came nearer could you make out what they were saying?"

"They were asking something about some letters."

"Then what did you hear?"

"I heard a man say—"You let me go," then I heard a holler. Next I saw a flashlight and saw something bright in the hands of one of the men."

At this point the witness began gesturing to illustrate her story.

The witness said she saw two faces when the flashlight was on.

"Did you identify these faces?"

"Yes."

"Was the man's face that of Henry Stevens?"

"Yes, it was Henry Stevens."

"Was the other face that of Willie Stevens?"

"No."

"Did you hear anything?"

SPECIAL VENIRE
SUMMONED IN CASE
IN DISTRICT COURT

W. A. Dean, charged by indictment with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of John R. Atchison, farmer, five miles south of Keren, Oct. 31, 1925, will go on trial in the district court Monday, November 29, according to present plans. A special venire of fifty additional jurors has been summoned for this trial.

Atchison was said to have been shot with a shotgun twice. He was rushed to the Navarro County Hospital where he died that night. It was said that the trouble was the culmination of long standing ill-feeling. The trial will attract considerable interest from the citizens of the eastern portion of the county where both men were well known.

Dean was indicated by the grand jury here during the October term of 1925.

In addition to the fifty special veniremen, the regular jury for the week of thirty-six jurors will be available for the selection of jurors.

Following are the special veniremen summoned by the sheriff's office.

M. A. Tekell, Corsicana; R. S. Lindsey, Corsicana; C. E. Bonds, Krichland; R. D. Jackson, Corsicana; R. N. Armstrong, Frost; Loyd Sears, Black Hill; M. E. Woodrow, Corsicana; R. D. Baird, Frost; C. These change, however, carries with it no alteration in the opinion of treasury officials that legislation to make permanent reduction in the tax rates at this time is not justified by visible long range prospects under the present law.

Congress Keeping Quiet.

Meanwhile, sentiment in Congressional circles discloses no sign of crystallizing for or against the administration's credit proposal, and it remains clear that the treasury officials would be overwhelmed with disappointment if it should fail to survive a clash of conflicting ideas already in evidence in the capital officials.

The treasury's original plan to apply the surplus to the public debt and thereby indirectly relieve the taxpayer by cutting down the annual interest requirements, would be effected, although Secretary Mellon regards the $500,000 reduction already in prospect, regardless of the surplus, as being sufficient for this purpose.

Mr. Mellon's new estimate is based on continued improvement in the treasury's surplus prospects, the

TEXAS CROP YIELD IN ALL LINES GOES ABOVE AVERAGE

By Associated Press.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 16.—H. H. Schutz, government statistician, in his November 1 crop report, says that combining the yields of all crops in proportion to their relative importance, the composite of yields per acre in Texas this season was 119.5.

This means, the report says, that crop yields were 19.5 per cent above the average of the last ten years. The composite of yields for the United States was 103.0.

"However, any satisfaction which might have been felt over the good yields has been marred by the resulting low prices," Mr. Schutz observed.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be an important meeting at the Navarro county courthouse in Corsicana. It is a meeting of vital importance to every resident of this county and all who possibly can should attend. The call for the meeting was issued by John T. Fortson, banker and large cotton grower who has been made county chairman of the Texas Bankers Association Cotton Acreage Control Movement. He is joined in the call by the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and by farmers over the county.

The meeting is for the purpose of discussing ways and means and advisability of limiting cotton acreage in the county, in co-operation with the rest of the South, to the end that next year the price of cotton may be on a profitable basis. Every farmer, banker and business man of the county is expected to be present as all are vitally interested in this question.

The time has arrived when something has to be done in the interest of the cotton farmer and now is the time to do it. Further delay will prove costly. The cotton question is one that affects every resident of the county regardless of his line of business. Representative farmers from every section of the county are expected to be present in order that a sensible and serious discussion of reducing cotton acreage for the next two years may result.

THE YEARNING FOR EDUCATION.

Surprise was caused this fall by the rush to the colleges; at many of the large institutions there were more applications for admission than could be accommodated. Scarcely less surprising is the revelation made in a recently taken census, of the number of persons who are taking college courses by correspondence.

Thirteen universities report that they are giving instruction by mail to a total of more than 40,000 men and women. These correspondence students are for the most part older than those who attend college, and they are drawn from all walks of life and from abroad as well as from every corner of the United States. The University of Chicago reports that it has enrolled in its correspondence department one student living above the Arctic Circle in Alaska and another in a remote part of China.

The courses cover a wide range of subjects. Business courses are most popular with the correspondence pupils of the University of Wisconsin. At the University of Kansas foreign languages are most in demand; at the University of Kentucky practical mining, at the University of Oklahoma education, and at the University of Chicago, Indiana and Texas English.

This yearning for education it is safe to assume, is prompted by recognition of the fact that learning makes for success in business. The correspondence students are taking courses of which they can make practical use. If they are employed in factories or mines they want to know the science that is back of their jobs. If they work in offices they seek acquaintance with the underlying principles of their business. These students will be the made men and women of a few years from now. Denied, probably, the opportunity to attend college and take the courses leading to a degree, they are making the most of such chances for obtaining an education as are available. This shows grit, and grit is one of the important factors that enter into success.

LECTURE ON TREES

Goodrich Jones, president-emeritus of the Texas Tree Association, delivered a tree lecture in Corsicana Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Corsicana Nature

Study Club. Mr. Jones has a message that many Corsicana people are interested in and he should have been heard by a great many more than did hear him. He made a tour of inspection of the trees in Corsicana and local conditions were discussed to some length. His address here should have attracted unusual attention just now as this is the time of the year for planting. A great many more trees could be planted in Corsicana to good advantage but there will not be enough trees planted until the entire citizenship shows more interest. A city cannot have too many trees—that is if the tree planting is carried out in a systematic manner. It is hoped Mr. Jones will find it convenient to give another tree lecture in Corsicana soon and if he does all should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him.

A PULPIT-POUNDER ON TRIAL

As thus far unfolded the Aimee McPherson case makes a sordid, ugly tale, and little different from scores of similar cases in which the public takes little or no interest. But in this case the public is deeply concerned because the defendant not only holds or did hold a commanding position as a religious leader but succeeded through the faith of her followers in collecting an enormous amount of money for church purposes.

Because of her real or fictitious kidnapping Mrs. McPherson has been held for trial on a charge of perjury. If she is proven guilty she will look large as one of the most successful poseurs, mountebanks and grafters in the history of a country that has known many masters at that game.

Viewed from any angle, the pastor of Angelus Temple is an amazing personality. There is something uncanny in the influence she has over the minds and passions of thousands. From an attendance and financial standpoint her preaching has been far more successful than was that of "Bill" Sunday at the zenith of his evangelistic career.

Acquitted. Mrs. McPherson is a student in psychology. Convicted she is an even more interesting psychological study as a woman with a dual nature, successfully posing as a spiritual leader and yet possessing passions and desires of the most worldly sort. For the same reason that every new generation reads "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," the public is watching the progress of the McPherson case with the keenest interest.

KNOW TEXAS

About sixty out of every one hundred people residing in Texas live in the country.

Eighty-four persons out of each hundred in Texas are white and seventy-six out of each hundred are native white people.

There are about 200,000 more men than women living in Texas.

Sixty-nine per cent of the foreign born population of Texas are natives of Mexico. Germany ranks second, with about eight per cent of the foreigners in Texas.

The area and resources of Texas are sufficient to care for a population of thirty million persons.

Now is the time to plant trees and shrubbery. Corsicana should take advantage of its natural resources. We have an abundance of fresh water, rich soil, and ideal climate conditions. With a little concerted effort on the part of the various organizations and the individual this city could be made one of the most attractive cities in the state. Hundreds of trees should be planted in Corsicana within the next thirty days.

A sufficient number of cows, hogs and chickens for home use at least should be on every farm in Navarro county. There is always a market for milk, butter and eggs. There is also a ready market for hogs. With the large feed crop in the barn the farmer should put something on his farm to eat it—something that he can turn into money—in more ways than one.

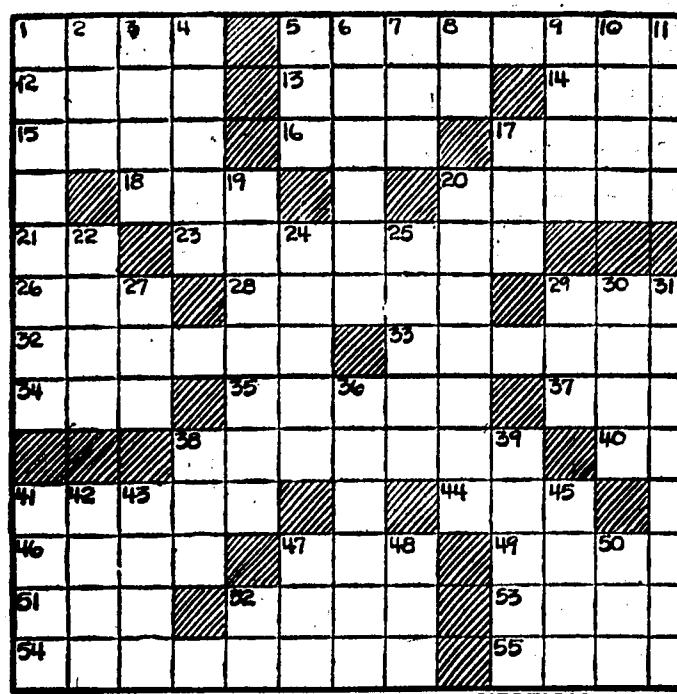

Santa Claus has already made a survey of Corsicana and decided he will have to increase his output to meet the demand here. The Corsicana merchants are displaying an alluring line of holiday goods and are prepared to take care of all your wants. Do all of your Christmas shopping in Corsicana.

When the Embattled Orator can't figure out the latest play of the opposition he frowns significantly and refers to it as Sinister.

COTTON REDUCTION MEETING SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY HERE

MATTER OF MEETING UNUSUAL SITUATION TO BE DISCUSSED THOROUGHLY

With the prospect of having over seven million bales of cotton on hand along in August of next year before the 1927 crop comes to market the bankers of the South are joining with the farmers in a serious discussion of reducing cotton acreage for the next two years.

Every farmer, banker and business man of Navarro county is invited to be present at a meeting to be held in the court house at Corsicana next Saturday, November 20, at 2 p. m. The meeting is to discuss the advisability and ways and means of limiting cotton acreage in this county, in co-operation with the rest of the South, to the end that the price of cotton next year may be on a profitable basis.

The call for the meeting is issued by John T. Fortson, banker and large cotton grower, who has been made County Chairman of the Texas Bankers Association Cotton Acreage Control movement. He is joined in the call by the Agricultural Committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and by farmers over the county.

It is particularly urged that farmers be present from every community in the county.

Discussion of the cotton acreage mass-meeting was one of the principal items discussed at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee, headed by J. L. Halbert, which met at the Chamber office Monday afternoon.

Following the failure to find quality hogs in sufficient numbers recently at Fort Worth, Chairman Halbert explained that a more favorable market apparently had been found in Missouri. The committee authorized the chairman, John T. Fortson and Henry Gentry to make purchase of two car loads of hogs for the farmers of the county whenever they could find a satisfactory market.

B. H. Frick was requested to discuss briefly the possibilities he saw in a movement to place more milk cows on Navarro county farms. He declared that he was in a position to assure a satisfactory market for cream and that he firmly believed that several milk cows on the farm would be a boon to the farmer.

Among those present for the conference were Mr. Halbert, John T. Fortson, F. N. Drane, N. F. Garrett, J. M. Blackburn, B. H. Frick, Henry Gentry, Mr. Farley, J. M. Dyer, Syd Marks and Roy Christian.

ARE YOU BEAUTIFUL?

How can I be beautiful? That is the question every woman asks herself. The answer is health, radiant, glowing health. Bright eyes, clear complexion, rosy cheeks, animation, make for beauty every time. What women need are weak and rundown, and lack these requisites for good looks, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a veritable boon to women suffering from any malady peculiar to their sex. It is made of herbs long known to the Indians and skilfully blended by chemists in Dr. Pierce's Laboratory.

Twenty-eighth preachers from the Corsicana District left Corsicana Tuesday to attend the sixty-first annual session of the Central Texas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which convenes at the Austin Avenue Methodist church of Waco at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning with Rev. Cullom H. Booth, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Corsicana as the pastor-host. They were preceded by Rev. John M. Bureus, presiding elder of the Corsicana District, who attended the preliminary meeting of the conference cabinet, composed of Bishop John M. Moore, presiding bishop, and the elders presiding over the various districts in the conference.

All preachers who have not been admitted to full connection also attended the Tuesday session, during which they stood examinations for promotion for the ensuing year. These included Rev. C. H. Sisseton, Chatfield; Rev. P. W. Utley, Max Avenue, Corsicana; Rev. G. S. Smith, Corsicana Circuit; Rev. Van Morrison, Ennis; Rev. J. T. Gardner, Harmony; Rev. H. R. Hall, Kereon Circuit; Rev. D. R. FOURTH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE HELD FIRST METHODIST

Reports of the church officers and the election of the stewards for the ensuing year were the principal items of interest at the fourth quarterly conference of the First Methodist church, held in the Educational Building Monday night, with Dr. John M. Bureus, presiding elder of the Corsicana District.

Rev. Bureus conducted a brief devotional service, reading the passage from the New Testament giving the details of the first church conference. In his remarks about the Scripture, the elder emphasized the necessity for selecting men of ability, honesty and faith for the leadership of the church.

Reports were presented by Rev. W. R. Boalard, pastor in charge; F. P. McElwraith, Sunday School superintendent; Dr. H. B. Love, president of the Epworth League; Mrs. W. L. Holman, president of the Women's Missionary Society; S. W. Burdine for the Board of Trustees; Sam J. Jackson, charge lay leader; W. J. Rochelle, church treasurer, and R. J. Jackson, treasurer of the building committee.

All of the reports indicated that the church has enjoyed a very successful year. The valuation of the church property has been almost doubled by the erection of the new building. The church treasurer's report showed that over $10,000 had been contributed for church activities.

Governmental favoritism was termed the cause of the farmers' predicament in a speech prepared for delivery by Thaddeus Caraway, United States Senator from Arkansas, one of the four speakers on today's program.

The others were Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Dr. B. W. Kilgore of Raleigh, N. C., chairman of the board of the American Corn Growers' Exchange, and A. D. Waldeuer of Memphis, Tenn., attorney for the Tennessee Cotton Growers' Co-Operative Association.

No Mystery to Collapse.

"There is no mystery as to the cause of the collapse of agriculture," said Senator Caraway. "Every one who thinks knows the cause. Had there been a collapse in industry, in transportation, in commerce and in agriculture from 1920 until today we might have thought it due to world conditions. If prosperity had come to agriculture, as it came to industry, transportation and to commerce we could have ascribed it to world conditions.

"But when prosperity came to commerce, to industry, to transportation and bankruptcy to agriculture, we likewise knew the cause. When prosperity comes to one section and remains in that section, and poverty reigns supreme in another section of the country, we also know the cause.

"We know it to be due to legislation—to governmental favoritism."

There is no complaint against the prosperity of the industrial East, of transportation and commerce, he said. "We ask merely that agriculture shall be permitted to share in it, not to lessen it."

Spectacle is Amazing.

"An amazing spectacle, however, is presented to agriculture," said the Senator. "Whenever it seeks to have extended to it the same opportunities and by the same means that has brought prosperity to other callings and to other sections, it is met by the declaration that it seeks special favors, unwarranted favors; that its position is not economical, that it is paternalistic and unconstitutional; that the farmer must look to the law of supply and demand for his market.

"Suggest to these other interests, however, that they look to the same law of supply and demand, and we are met with the declaration that we wish to destroy American industry."

Mr. Waldeuer assailed President Coolidge's cotton committee headed by Eugene Mayer, as working with an indefinite plan while the South faces disaster, which, progressive, will make itself felt throughout the country.

He urged that the South and the Middle West join hands in working for a permanent agriculture and grain policy.

Mr. Tait Butler, farm paper publisher and chairman of the All-Southern Cotton Committee recently appointed at Memphis, Tenn., was elected permanent chairman by the 100 farm organizations represented present.

THEATRE PROGRAM PUBLISHED FORTY YEARS AGO FOUND

B. Marks, pioneer Corsicana merchant, called at the Sun office Tuesday and exhibited a show program of unusual interest, especially to the older residents of the city. The program was from the Standard Theatre and was published in 1886. This theatre was at the corner of East Fourth Avenue and Beaton street and was in the building now occupied by the Jarrell-Elliott Dry Goods Company. The theatre staff included Jas. Hanlin, proprietor; Chas. Weiser, leader of orchestra; George Bowman, advertising agent; Tom Beeson, manager; Tom Weldon, head of band; Louis Schnecke, property man.

The advertisements will bring to mind many well known names. B. Marks was running the New York Store and carried an advertisement on the program as well as did W. M. REPRESENTATIVES OF MIDDLE WEST AND SOUTH MET TUESDAY

PURPOSE IS TO DEVISE SOME MEANS OF BETTERING FARM CONDITIONS

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, Nov. 16.—The cotton growing South and the grain producing Middle West got together today for a two day session through the medium of representatives of farmer organizations of fourteen states, six of them Southern, to formulate joint demands for Congressional relief for agriculture.

It was the first time that the two great agricultural sections ever had reached the point of sitting together, and the move, sought for months by the grain producers, finally was influenced largely by the condition in which the South finds itself through a heavy over-production of cotton which has sent prices tumbling.

Governmental favoritism was termed the cause of the farmers' predicament in a speech prepared for delivery by Thaddeus Caraway, United States Senator from Arkansas, one of the four speakers on today's program.

The others were Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Dr. B. W. Kilgore of Raleigh, N. C., chairman of the board of the American Corn Growers' Exchange, and A. D. Waldeuer of Memphis, Tenn., attorney for the Tennessee Cotton Growers' Co-Operative Association.

No Mystery to Collapse.

"There is no mystery as to the cause of the collapse of agriculture," said Senator Caraway. "Every one who thinks knows the cause. Had there been a collapse in industry, in transportation, in commerce and in agriculture from 1920 until today we might have thought it due to world conditions. If prosperity had come to agriculture, as it came to industry, transportation and to commerce we could have ascribed it to world conditions.

"But when prosperity came to commerce, to industry, to transportation and bankruptcy to agriculture, we likewise knew the cause. When prosperity comes to one section and remains in that section, and poverty reigns supreme in another section of the country, we also know the cause.

"We know it to be due to legislation—to governmental favoritism."

There is no complaint against the prosperity of the industrial East, of transportation and commerce, he said. "We ask merely that agriculture shall be permitted to share in it, not to lessen it."

Spectacle is Amazing.

"An amazing spectacle, however, is presented to agriculture," said the Senator. "Whenever it seeks to have extended to it the same opportunities and by the same means that has brought prosperity to other callings and to other sections, it is met by the declaration that it seeks special favors, unwarranted favors; that its position is not economical, that it is paternalistic and unconstitutional; that the farmer must look to the law of supply and demand for his market.

"Suggest to these other interests, however, that they look to the same law of supply and demand, and we are met with the declaration that we wish to destroy American industry."

Mr. Waldeuer assailed President Coolidge's cotton committee headed by Eugene Mayer, as working with an indefinite plan while the South faces disaster, which, progressive, will make itself felt throughout the country.

He urged that the South and the Middle West join hands in working for a permanent agriculture and grain policy.

Mr. Tait Butler, farm paper publisher and chairman of the All-Southern Cotton Committee recently appointed at Memphis, Tenn., was elected permanent chairman by the 100 farm organizations represented present.

JUNIOR COLLEGE
CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT EL PASOSUPERINTENDENT FILLERS
TO INVITE VIEWS OF EDUCATORS OF STATE

Public school executives from over the state will be invited to a conference to discuss legislative phases of the Junior College movement by H. D. Fillers during the forthcoming convention of the Texas State Teachers Association in El Paso.

Superintendent Fillers, who is chairman of the County wide executive committee of the Junior College movement, suggested the conference at a meeting of his committee held Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce, and his associates gave their hearty approval. It was pointed out that while there is a noticeable interest of the state in local Junior Colleges, there are also many divergent views on the type of enabling legislation needed. It is believed that the state convention of teachers offers a splendid opportunity for a corollation of thought along the lines which have been suggested by Navarro county proponents.

Some thought at Tuesday's meeting was given to the desirability of another conference of Texas school and lay representatives to be held possibly in Austin later on. A. A. Allison, general chairman of the county advisory committee, who was present, reiterated that he thought the meeting arranged by the Chamber of Commerce during the recent short session of the legislature had greatly aided in bringing out expressions from a group of prominent Texans on the subject. He thought that these additional conferences would develop further unity of thought and action.

No State Aid Asked

The committee went on record Tuesday as declaring that in their opinion no state aid should be asked for Junior Colleges but that local counties or districts should be given merely the privilege of creating a Junior College district. These districts so created would establish and maintain their own local institutions. Motion was made by Mr. Allison, seconded by S. M. Kerr, and carried unanimously.

D. E. McKinney, business man of Dawson, was added to the executive committee by appointment.

Victor Matthews, of Dawson, declared that he had heard many encouraging expressions from the citizens of Dawson favoring the establishment of a Navarro county college and expressed the hope that the institution would be made available to the boys and girls of the county as soon as possible.

Present for the meeting were A. A. Allison, H. D. Fillers, Lowry Martin, Mrs. T. A. Miller, S. M. Kerr, W. P. McCammon, Sydney Marks, Roy Cotton, and Victor Matthews and D. E. McKinney of Dawson. Mrs. Lula Sherrill of Kereon, member of the committee, telephoned during the session to express her regret at being unable to attend and gave assurances of her deep interest in the county-wide project.

Don't Gamble When You Buy Your Used Car

The used car you buy represents so many unused miles of transportation. The price should be in proportion to this unused mileage.

Whether or not you get the unused mileage you pay for, depends upon which car you buy and where you buy it.

The Ford has more mileage built into it per dollar of cost than any other car. A used Ford therefore has more unused mileage remaining in it than any other car that has been used to the same extent. Consequently it is the best used car you can buy.

Being authorized Ford dealers we are experts on Ford cars and can give you a better used Ford for your money than any "frelance" dealer who handles any and every make of car.

We know every nut and bolt in the Ford; we know exactly the real condition of every used Ford we take in and what it needs to put it in good running order.

We don't allow extravagant trade-in prices. We pay what the car is worth and sell it to you for that price plus the cost of renewing it. All work is done by our regular mechanics, with special Ford equipment and using only genuine Ford parts.

We have no interest in giving you anything but the biggest value possible because we want you to come back for your next car and we know that the only way we can bring you back is by giving you a full dollar's worth for every dollar you pay.

We have some very good used Fords at attractive prices on display now. Come in and see them and try them out if you want to. No obligation to buy.
